

By the Kynge and the Quene

HERE AS THE Quenes Maiestye at the ouerture and begynnynge of the warres wpth fraunce, did by her hyghenes proclamation, warne her lounge subiectes to forbear all trafficque, and contracting wpth anye of the frenche nation, durynge the sayde warres: forasmuche as her hyghenes is geuen to vnderstande that (the former proclamations notwithstanding) dyuerse and sundrye of her subiectes do neuerthelesse by indirecte meanes bring into thys Realme, sundrye kyndes of marchandise, cummyng from the countrey of the ennemye, and namely wynges: her Maiestye therefore by thys her presente proclamation, strayghtlye chargerh and commaundeth, that from the .xx. daye of Apryll next ensuynge, no wynges growen or made wythin þe frenche kynges dominions, other then such wynges as shall be taken from the ennemye as lawefull pryse, be broughte in to thys Realme, with out her hyghnes speciall lycence, vppon payne of losse and forfeyture to her highnes vse of the sayd wynges so brought in, and imprisonmente, and fynes of the owners of such wynges at her hyghnes pleasure.

Proclamation of the Quene of France concerning the prohibition of French wares.

And where her hyghnes doth further vnderstande, that diuers quantities of wynges aforesayde, are alredy brought into sundrye portes and hauens of thys Realme, her maiestie doth also streightly charge and commaund, that the parties which haue brought in or caused to be brought in the sayd wynges, do not in anye wyse vent, or putte the same to sale, onlesse the same haue ben taken from the ennemye, as lawefull pryse, before they shall haue vnderstanden her highnes further ordre concernyng the same, vpon lyke payne & forfeyture to her highnes vse, as afoze. Dated the thyrty of March, at her maiesties
